

Leigh Dudley FCCA AMAE

Fellow of the Institute of Chartered Association of Certified Accountants (ACCA)

Practising Associate of The Academy of Experts

Profile

I have over eighteen years of experience of General Practice with a diverse range of experience, including company valuation, fraud investigation, client acquisition strategies, due-diligence and loss of profit claims. I have undertaken written reports in my own name including expert witness work under the Civil and Family Procedure Rules.

I have lectured to others within the financial and legal sectors covering a variety of topics from both a financial accounting and financial management perspective. My seminars are often aimed at ensuring delegates gain an introduction and understanding of accounts.

Experience and Skills

I trained and qualified with a large regional firm of Chartered Accountants, obtaining a range of experience across a variety of industry sectors, with clients of differing size and structure. I have regularly advised on accounting, financial and taxation matters to small and medium sized family businesses and individuals.

I apply an analytical and methodical approach to all cases which I am involved in; ensuring reports are clearly and concisely written.

Over the past eighteen years I have undertaken a range of cases covering the following broad areas:

- Business valuations
- Matrimonial Finance
- Personal tax
- Capital gains tax
- Value added tax
- Loss of profit claims
- Fraud investigations
- Personal injury and fatal accident
