I have gained wide experience as a Trainee and Consultant in managing major trauma, both at King's College Hospital and elsewhere during my training. I have undertaken a Trauma Fellowship at Harborview Hospital in Seattle, U.S.A. King's College Hospital, London, is a Major Trauma Centre with Neurosurgery, Cardiothoracic and Orthopaedic Surgery on site. I have also specialised in Arthroscopic Surgery of the shoulder, elbow and wrist. I have been to New York and Seattle for Shoulder and Knee Fellowships. I have also undertaken an Upper Limb Fellowship at Wrightington Hospital, UK, dealing with shoulder, elbow and hand disorders.
