Veterinary Medicine

BVM&S MRCVS. Obtained from the University of Edinburgh, 2010

Business owner of Greenway Equine Veterinary Services (Private Equine Veterinary practice)

October 2010 until September 2018: Equine Veterinary Surgeon at Oakhill Veterinary Centre, Goosnargh, Lancashire.

Currently studying for an Advanced Practitioner certificate in Equine Internal Medicine, with the University of Liverpool.

Currently studying for a master's degree in forensic veterinary science with the University of Florida.

Special interests include gastroscopy, ophthalmology, respiratory conditions and welfare work.

I have been the Veterinary Surgeon in attendance at World Horse Welfare, Penny Farm, from November 2011 to September 2018. I also undertake a large amount of the RSPCA / welfare work in a wide area across England and Wales. I have undertaken both prosecution and defence work in this field.

I give lectures at Leahurst (Liverpool Veterinary School) regarding welfare work and am also one of the five official vets at Appleby horse fair since 2016. I am also on the National equine welfare councils for the North West, Shropshire and midlands, north yorks and north east areas, which tackles welfare issues of horses across the North of England with the RSPCA and other horse welfare charities.

I have undertaken all the Lancashire Constabulary mounted branch work, including being on the benevolent trust committee for retired police horses for the last 8 years. I won the British Equine Veterinary Association award for services to equine welfare in 2019 and the Douglas Houghton memorial trust fund donation for equine welfare studies in 2018.
