Experience:

Medicolegal:

My experience of medico-legal work extends back as far as 1983. My aim in this is to provide unbiased reports to help the Court without polarisation of the opinion provided.

To further this aim, I carried out a postal study on trauma and the degenerate spine and have data on the opinions of over 650 spinal experts in the UK published in JPIL [2005] (2).

I have appeared in court to give evidence 3-5 times per year (since the Wolfe report). Before Wolfe, I appeared in court 5-10 times per year.

Surgical:

More than 2000 spinal (lumbar and cervical) operations (carried out personally).

I have expertise in cervical disc replacement, Acoustic Neuroma surgery, Trigeminal Neuralgia and skull base surgery.

General Comments:

I was a full-time UK Consultant Neurosurgeon in Middlesbrough, appointed in 1985, during which time I had regular care of patients suffering from head Injury, Sub-arachnoid Haemorrhage, Brain Tumours, Acoustic Neuromas, Spinal injury, degenerative disease, and disc problems.

I treated and managed spinal trauma for much of my career and regularly operated on the neck and back.

I have carried out more than one hundred and fifty Microvascular Decompression operations for Trigeminal Neuralgia and I was regularly involved in skull base surgery jointly with an ENT colleague. I also clipped more than 300 cerebral aneurysms and removed 50 arterio-venous malformations of the brain and did so throughout my neurosurgical career.

I regularly taught medical students, junior doctors and other members of staff.

I have presented my work regularly at National and International meetings.

Extracurricular:

I am a published historical fiction author.

I have trekked to 6000m in Nepal in 2004.

I have run the Great North Run 25 times in 26 years.
