PUBLICATIONS

I have always had a passion for surgical research and have taken an active interest in the academic controversies in both orthopaedic trauma surgery and elective upper limb orthopaedic surgery. I have had the privilege to be involved in a number of research projects, which have been presented at both national and international meetings.

I have been involved with almost 40 internationally recognised research projects to date.

Please see my website for full details.

MEDICOLEGAL EXPERIENCE

I am fully compliant with the CPR rules, and have received formal training in the preparation of medico-legal reports. I maintain a contemporary practice by attending courses and reading professional publications.
