Training:

I graduated in Medicine from the University of London and completed basic surgical training in London and the SouthEast. I undertook a research Fellowship into knee ligament surgery at the Nuffield Orthopaedic Centre (Oxford Orthopaedic Engineering Centre), sponsored by the Royal College of Surgeons and the British Association for Surgery of the Knee, leading to a Master of Surgery Degree.

In 2002 I was appointed to the London Deanery for Higher Surgical Training in Trauma and Orthopaedic Surgery. Towards the end of my training period I undertook Fellowships at the Adidas Sports Medicine Institute in Auckland, New Zealand, where I gained experience in treating sports knee injuries, and I then took the post of Trauma Fellow at Auckland Hospital managing acute skeletal trauma. Upon my return to the UK I gained further Fellowship experience in hip and knee surgery at the Nuffield Orthopaedic Centre in Oxford.

Current Employment

I was appointed as a Consultant Trauma and Orthopaedic Surgeon at Torbay Hospital NHS Foundation Trust in 2008. I undertake private and medicolegal practice at Mount Stuart Hospital, Torquay, and medicolegal consulting at Axiomedica via the London Foot and Ankle Centre, St John and St Elizabeth Hospital, London.

My work encompasses General Orthopaedics and Trauma, with a subspecialist interest in surgery of the knee, in particular day-case partial and total knee replacements, an area in which I am a national opinion-leader. I undertake approximately 400 procedures per year including trauma and elective operating.

I have been Clinical Governance Lead and Clinical Lead/Director for the Torbay Trauma and Orthopaedic department. I continue to publish and present on Orthopaedic clinical research, with over 40 peer reviewed publications and presentations with a focus on surgery of the knee. I am an experienced Appraiser for the Trust, involved in the process of revalidation for Consultants in all specialties, and sit on the national NICE expert panel regarding digital platforms for perioperative management.

Medicolegal expertise

I have received training in CPR compliant medico-legal report writing via the Bond-Solon Expert Witness Excellence in Report Writing course in 2014. I have updated my medicolegal knowledge with the 2016 SpecialistInfo Advanced Medicolegal Course, and a SpecialistInfo Advanced Report Writing Course in 2021.

In 2024 I completed the InspireMediLaw Clinical Negligence Report Writing Course for Expert Witnesses.

I provide expert witness reports for Breach of Duty / Causation cases and provide Condition and Prognosis reports for post-traumatic musculoskeletal disease, particularly injuries involving the lower limb and knee. I provide reports and expert opinion on the management of knee conditions such as care provided during knee replacement or soft tissue knee reconstruction procedures. I prepare reports for Claimant and Defendant in an approximately 50:50 ratio.

I have provided several hundred medicolegal reports since 2014, and consult from Rooms at Mount Stuart Hospital, Torquay, and via the Axiomedica medicolegal department of the London Foot and Ankle Centre at the Hospital of St John and St Elizabeth, London.
