I am a Consultant Thoracic Surgeon whose NHS practice is based at Hull University Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust. I have extensive experience in the management of thoracic surgical patients and ensure I offer the most modern and advanced care to my patients. I undertake minimally invasive surgical techniques that I strive to ensure is tailored to each individual patient with the aim of attaining excellent clinical outcomes. I have an active thoracic trauma practice with chest wall surgery a professional interest.

I have a current university appointment and I am the current chair of the European Society Thoracic Surgeons thoracic trauma working group. I am invited as a speaker, moderator and panellist at international meetings and courses. I have been the recipient of awards and have published on various topics within general thoracic surgery.

I have undertaken Bond Solon training and completed the Cardiff University Bond Solon Civil Expert Certificate in 2023.
